MEDICAL.

DR. C. W. MOORE'S
Medical and Surgical Institute.
Commercial Street, a few doors below Kearney Str.,
Attending and Resident Physician,
C. W. MOORE, M. D.,
Late Surgeon, U. S. A., Quarantine Physician New Orleans and Boston, Lecturer on Morbid Anatomy and Diseases of Women and Children, Member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, etc., etc

DR. MOORE WOULD RESPECTFULLY INform the people of California that he has established an Institute for the

CURE OF DISEASES
WHETHER CHRONIC OR ACUTE
AT 641 COMMERCIAL STREET,
A few doors below Kearney, where he may be consulted at all hours.

DISEASES OF THE UTERINE OR OVARIAN FUNCTIONS,
Characterized by irregular, suppressed, or painful menstruation, pain in the sides and back, sensation of weight in the pelvis, weakness, nervous headache, leucorrhœa or whites, are treated on scientific principles, and a prompt and permanent cure effected.

NERVOUS AFFECTIONS,
Such as neuralgia, paralysis, giddiness, dimness of vision, etc., will receive special attention.

DISEASES OF THE SEXUAL ORGANS,
Male or female, are treated with all the skill and appliances which modern science has made available.—Nauseous drugs and nostrums, which are so often administered for weeks without benefit, are entirely discarded, and a few days only are required to accomplish a perfect cure.

Secondary and hereditary affections, scrofula in all its manifold forms, dyspepsia, emaciation and debility, treated with certain and unfailing remedies—speedily expelling all corrupt humors, and imparting a healthy tone to the system by purifying the blood, regulating the secretions, and reinvigorating the vital powers.

Twenty years practice in different parts of the world has given the Doctor advantages possessed by few, and his remarkable success warrants a promise of effectual cure.

Medicines, with full directions, will be sent to any part of the State on receipt of letter describing symptoms.

An infirmary is connected with the establishment, where patients who desire may receive board and constant attention during their sickness, thus avoiding the inconvenience of a hotel. Kind and attentive nurses will be employed, and no means will be left untried to give full satisfaction. Consultation free.

TO THE LADIES.—Females in trouble, or afflicted with disease, are respectfully invited to call on Dr. MOORE, and consult him about their troubles. His uniform success in his treatment of Female Suppression and kindred diseases is a sufficient guarantee of his scientific attainments. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but call at once, and save yourself from future suffering and misery. Consultations are confidential, and his offices are arranged for the strictest privacy. Address, C. W. MOORE, M. D.
641 Commercial street,
Oct15-3m Sun Francisco.

THE HUMAN HAIR
HAS LONG BEEN THE STUDY OF THE most scientific men of the age, from the fact that close study generally causes the hair to fall off prematurely; and, in consequence, they have given the subject a portion of their valuable time, trying to invent some method to regain their lost locks; but all their labor was in vain, until

PROFESSOR CROCKETT
after many years of hard study devoted to this one subject, has produced an article that

WILL MAKE THE HAIR GROW, and which, by its use as a Hair Dressing, will effectually and always prevent its loss—even to extreme old age. Happily, the while possessing these virtues, is most delightful and agreeable without regard to their virtue. The hair, when diseased, becomes dry, and commences to turn grey, which is caused by the non-secretion by the capillary glands of a peculiar oil. It has therefore been thought and believed that if the glands were stimulated into action, they would still give a sufficient supply of nourishment to the hair; but alas! they forget one very important law of nature, viz: that ALL STIMULANTS HAVE THEIR REACTION; and the more the glands were stimulated—the sooner the final loss of the much prized locks. The principle of the preparation invented by Professor Crockett is entirely the opposite—instead of stimulating the capillary glands, he feeds them with the substance they require, and, in turn, the hair is fed by them—on the same principle as giving water to a flower. All we will say to those who are timid about trying new preparations is, that we strictly guarantee the AMYGDALINE to be entirely free from all stimulants, and is as harmless as filtered water, and can be used on the smallest infant. As a

AMYGDALINE

Hair Dressing
it is unequalled by any the world has yet produced. It keeps the head entirely free of dandruff, eruption, pimples—imparting to the hair a beautiful glossy softness not obtained by an known compound. It will also be found both pleasant and useful as a Cosmettiques, rpassing cold cream and face lotions in its effecs; for chaps, sore breast and nipples we know of no remedy that is equal to it.

THE PERFUME
used is such that the AMYGDALINE will always retain, it will not become rancid by age; in fact, it is perfect in every particular. Professor Crockett's Amygdaline can be had of all druggists and dealers everywhere. Price 50 cents.

Ask for Crockett's Amygdaline, and take no other. se25-6m

The California Fly-Killing Liquid.
FLY PAPER KILLS ITS THOUSANDS. THE Liquid Fly Killer its tens of thousands. This preparation for killing flies gives the greatest satisfaction of anything ever yet used. It is now improved to the highest killing point. It is of such a nature and so speedy of effects, that the flies will not spot the walls and windows, which makes the use of other preparations so objectionable.

CELESTIAL FROLIC

The sun had put his night-cap on,
And covered o'er his head,
When countless stars appear'd amid
The curtains round his bed.

The moon, most motherly,
To take a quiet peep
How all the stars behaved while he
Her sovereign was asleep.

She saw them wink their silvery eyes,
As if in roguish play;
Though silent all, to her they seem'd
As if they'd much to say.

So, lest their frolic should disturb
The sleeping king of light,
She rose so high that her mild eye
Could keep them all in sight.

The stars, abashed, stole softly back,
And look'd demure and prim;
Until the moon began to nod,
Her eyes becoming dim.

Then sleepily she sought her home,
That's somewhere—who knows where?
And as she went, the playful stars
Commenced their twinkling glare.

And when the moon was fairly gone,
The imps with silvery eyes
Had so much fun it woke the sun
And he began to rise.

He rose in glory!—from his eyes
Sprang forth a new-born day;
Before whose brightness all the stars
Ran hastily away.

THE NEW GOSPEL OF PEACE.

ACCORDING TO BENJAMIN.

CHAPTER XI.

1. Now when the day of the casting of the lot drew nigh the Pahdees and the Bihdees (for so were called the women of the Pahdees which were maid servants unto the Iangkies) declared that they would not suffer the lot, but would make a great schyndee, and that in this they would do the will of Seemer, whom they called Say More, and of Phernandiwud.

2. But the Iangkies heeded them not, saying, This is all blahknee, which being interpreted is bungcome. For the blahknee of the Pahdees is the bungcome of the Iangkies.

3. But Seemer was told of this thing in such manner that he knew it to be true. And he took no means to prevent the Pahdees, neither did he summon any of the soldiers of the province back to Gotham. But he sent one of his officers unto Abraham and unto his counselors, saying,

4. Behold now the Pahdees will resist the lot. Let it therefore be stopped until the judges can say whether it is according to the Great Covenant.

5. But Abraham answered him and said, Hear me Seemer. This nation standeth up to the lips in hot water, and the pot hath been heating now these thirty years; and as I live this nation shall no longer remain in hot water without striving to get out thereof, because it is not according to Knsuvvutism. Let the Judges deem; but let the lot go forward.

6. So the lot went forward. And Seemer washed his hands; for like Pilate he also was a Knsuvvutiv.

7. Now the first day of the casting of the lot was the seventh day of the week; wherefore the Pahdees refrained themselves, lest Augustus and they of the circumcision should be offended. And the day was the Sabbath of the Gentiles.

8. But on the next day, even upon the first day of the week, certain of the Pahdees gathered themselves together about the eleventh hour, and fell upon the officers which cast the lots, and drove them out of the houses wherein they were, and destroyed their writings, and set the house on fire. And they beat the watchmen of Ken Edee which were sent against them (for they were but an handfull), and went about the streets armed with clubs and staves, shouting and making schyndees.

9. And straightway the whole city near the quarters where the Pahdees dwelt, which was called Ashantee, was in an uproar.

10. And the tumult grew and spread throughout Gotham among the Pahdees. But of the Iangkies only a few of the baser sort of the Hittites and the Hammerites joined therein. Yet did certain of the Kopur-hedds inflame the Pahdees with their words.

11. And Ken Edee went to see what the tumult was. And the Pahdees said, Lo, this enemy of Phernandiwud cometh, and he that stoppeth schyndees is delivered into our hands. Let us slay him therefore; for we stand by the Great Covenant. And they beat him nigh unto death.

12. And they were more and more inflamed by their own doings, and by the orations of the Kopur-hedds. And they began to shout for Jeph the Repudiator and to sack and burn the city. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

13. And they entered into the houses of the officers of Abraham and the houses of the rich men, men of Belial, which strove to set the Niggah free and to pay him wages for his labor, even as the Pahdees were paid; and they took the household stuff and the furniture, and cast it into the street, and some they carried off, and they burned the houses. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

14. And foaming in anger against the Niggahs, lest they should be set free and get wages, they fell upon them which were already free in Gotham, and some they beat, and some they hanged, and some they slew, and some of the bodies of them that they slew they burned while the breath was yet in them. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

15. And they drove the Niggahs out of their houses, and set them on fire. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

16. And they went in the night and set on fire an alms house for little Niggahs which were orphans, and turned them, half naked, out into the darkness; for they said, Lest they become men and receive wages for their labor. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

17. And some Niggahs they cast into the water, and some into the fire; and they slew the child in the arms of its mother. For they stood by the Great Covenant,

18. And they robbed in the highways of Gotham, even in every part thereof; and they cast stones into the houses of the scribes that taught not the gospel of peace and the everlasting Niggah. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

19. And they fought against the officers of Unculpsalm, and slew some of them; and the Pahdee women, even the Bihdees, did cut some of them that were slain with knives, even as they did the Niggah men, so that they could not come into the congregation. For they stood by the Great Covenant.

20. And it came to pass that a man of the Tshivulree sat in the house of Hiram the publican; and certain Phlunkees were there also, compromising unto him.

21. And the man said, Behold I do smell a smell as of wool burning, a smell as of the land of the Ephephees, and the land of Diksee, which is the home of the Tshivulree, and it is sweet unto my nostrils.

22. And the Phlunkees, which were Kopur-hedds, bowed themselves down before him, and said, Yea, verily, thy servants are burning Niggahs, that it may be pleasant unto my lord, to show their good will unto my lord, and that my lord may see that the home of Tshivulree is coming northward.

23. And he said, Is it even so? It is well. And if ye will indeed offer up the Free Niggah unto us as a burnt offering, an offering of a sweet savor, behold we may accept you and be gracious unto you, and when we do smell the smell of the burnt Niggah, we may no longer hold our noses when ye do bow yourself down unto us, and speak unto us, and sell us your merchandise. And if ye continue in well doing, and will buy and sell the Niggahs, and make them your hewers of wood and drawers of water forever, and beat them with stripes, and roast them with fire, and get sons and daughters of their women and sell them for bondsmen and bondswomen, and if ye will persecute the sons of Belial who say, Do ye unto all men as ye would have all men do unto you, and will beat them, and hang them, and roast them with fire, and pour hot pitch upon them, and ride them upon sharp beams, very grievous to bestride, and make this country like unto the land of Diksee, the home of Tshivulree.

23. Behold then we may be yet more gracious unto you, and come into your provinces and take them and rule them and you.

25. And the Phlunkees which were Kopur-hedds bowed themselves down again, and compromised themselves yet the more, and said, Be it unto thy servants, even as thou wilt.

26. Now when Seemer had sent his officer unto Abraham because he knew that there would be a tumult, he remained not in Gotham, but went down to the seaside.

27. And when the tumult broke out they sent for him; but he came not. But on the second day even the Kopur-hedds sent unto him, saying, Come over and help us ere we be destroyed. And he came.

28. But the Pahdees, although they were slaying and burning and destroying, fled not from before his face although he was governor of the province, whose office it was to execute judgment upon transgressors. But when they saw him they thronged upon him, and shouted welcome unto him. And he spake unto them and compromised himself unto them, and said unto them,

29. Hear me, O my friends. I mean that the wrongs which ye do suffer in being made to bear your part of the burdens of the land of Unculpsalm, and to obey the laws thereof, shall be abated. And I have sent an officer to demand that the law against which you have made this tumult shall not be enforced. But my friends, I beg you, O my noble friends, I do entreat you, that ye will respect private property (for do not our noble friends the Tshivulree, whom we all serve this day, respect private property?) else I cannot deliver you from your oppression.

30. Yet on the morrow he issued a proclamation to the people that they should obey the laws of the province. But he said nothing about the laws of Unculpsalm. But the Pahdees regarded not his proclamation, and went on with their schyndee.

31. Now the watchmen of Ken Edee, which were called Pleece, which were valiant men and goodly to look upon, and which found favor in the eyes of the women of Gotham, fought stoutly under the lieutenant of Ken Edee, whose name was Kahpen Turr. Likewise also did a handfull of the soldiers of Unculpsalm. So that in three days the tumult began to abate.

32. And it came to pass that a man of Gotham met some of the Pahdees, and they suffered him to talk to them.

33. And he asked them, Why do ye fight the Pleece? And they answered and said, Because the Pleece began the riot by withstanding us when we would have driven out the officers who cast the lots against us. For if we may but do our own will, we indeed would trouble no man.

34. And he asked them, Why do ye slay the officers of Unculpsalm? And they answered and said, Because they turn their swords upon the people. For have not the scribes of the Kopur-hedds and the Phlunkees and the Ooeecnees told you that we are the people?

35. And again he asked them, But why do ye slay the Niggahs, which are meek and lowly, and withstand no man, but flee before you? And they said unto him,

37. Confess now, is not the Niggah the cause of the war? And he said, Yea, verily. And they answered him, Behold thou hast said it. We slay the Niggah because he is the cause of the war, and we are apostles of the new gospel of peace, which we do minister unto with fire and sword this day.

37. And if the Niggah chooseth to submit, he hath the right to submit. For we have vowed a vow that no man shall fight against his will; and this is the right of the Niggah under the Great Covenant. And if he resisteth, then all the more will we put him to death. For we stand by the Great Covenant.

38. And after five days the tumult was ended. But for five days there were murderings and burnings and destruction. And the smoke of that city went up day and night like the smoke of a furnace; and the air was filled with groanings, and with the cry of women and of children to whom was ministered the new gospel of peace.

39. And it was a great ministration; and the like had not been in that land neither shall be. For if men see not their wickedness and turn not from the error of their ways through such ministration, how shall they be converted?

CHAPTER XII.

1. Now in all this the Pahdees did the will of their master Phernandiwud, the great apostle of the new gospel of peace.

2. But he appeared not in the matter, nor was he heard of in Gotham during the ministration; for he was a subtle man and a crafty, and his walk was slantindicular.

3. So that Elijah who smelleth the battle afar off in the tents of Tamunee, and whose walk is straight forward, said, What manner of man is this Phernandiwud, that he raiseth such a tumult among the people, and then straightway taketh himself into the wilderness, where no man can find him?

4. And Phernandiwud was not well pleased with his followers the Pahdees, and he said unto their ringleaders, (for although he appeared not he held communication with them,) What mean ye that ye act thus without discretion? What ye do is well; but ye do too much thereof; and by your over-much zeal ye bring reproach upon the gospel of peace among a people which is yet in the darkness of a false dispensation.

5. It is meet and right that the officers of Abraham should be slain, and the Niggahs hanged and burned, and they despoiled who would set them free and pay them wages, and that men should be put in terror of the mystery of the new gospel, which yet they comprehend not. For we stand by the Great Covenant. But the time has not yet come.

6. Cease, therefore, to slay the officers of Abraham, and to hang and burn the Niggahs, and to lay waste the city. But continue to withstand the lot, which only I meant ye should do; that from the province of Gotham, and from all the other provinces, there should go no more men into the armies of Unculpsalm, and so the war might cease without the putting down of the rebellion.

7. For in this Seemer would have helped us. But now by your overmuch zeal ye have compelled him to declare himself against us, though in heart he is with us. Cease, now, therefore, to slay, to hang and to burn any more than is prudent, or ye will hinder the propagation of the new gospel of peace. Have ye not read how it is written, The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up?

8. (For again, as in his business with Marahvine, he had searched the scripture that he might find something to his advantage.)

9. Now this was on the second day of the ministration. But the Pahdees then would not heed the words of Phernandiwud, and went on with their slaying and their hanging and their burning.

10. Then did Phernandiwud and the Kopur-hedds see that again their case was desperate, and that seeking to let out a little water, they had opened the floodgates, and could not close them again. Wherefore they gave up this matter, and the watchmen of Ken Edee, even the Pleece, and the soldiers of Unculpsalm took possession of the city of Gotham, and from all myrh, even the Niggahs, slept in peace, and ate their bread in quietness.

11. Nevertheless, Seemer and all them that were disciples of the new gospel of peace, and which said that no man, not even the Niggah, should be made to fight, declared that they would resist the lot by the law, and that they would do by the judges that which they had failed to accomplish through the overmuch zeal of the Phahdees.

12. But they could not, for they found that their own judges whom they glorified, and who expounded the Great Covenant only as a great compromising, which should endure forever, had declared against them, and that the law of Unculpsalm was supreme in the land.

13. So the lot was cast, and the men taken, and the war was not hindered. And the armies of Unculpsalm moved forward. And in the west they marched into the heart of the land of Diksee, and the army of one Phiretah captain in that country, who was surnamed the Braggart, fell back before them.

14. Now upon the south-eastern coast of the land of Diksee, on the shore of the great sea, as thou goest down unto Oarji where Robert dwelt among the tombs, was a little city, which they who dwelt therein called Tshawlstn, which was full of Phiretahs. And the people thereof did nothing and thought of nothing, but to be Tshivulree. And being mere cumberers of the ground, and doing nothing but be Tshivulree, they were yet eaten up with conceit of themselves and of their glory; and they boasted more than any other of the boasters south of the border of Masunandicsun: and their only boast was that they were the real Tshivulree. Wherefore even in the land of Diksee men laughed them to scorn.

15. And as the people thereof did nothing but boast and be Tshivulree, Tshawlstn fell into decay, and year by year, as it decayed, it became more and more stiff-necked and rebellious. And it was in Tshawlstn that the men of the South first rose up against the government of Unculpsalm; and it was from the fort before the city, which guarded the passage to the sea, that the Phiretahs, with an army of five thousand men, drove out one of the captains of Unculpsalm, with a band of ninety, at the beginning of the war.

16. Wherefore, although the men of the North hated not the men of the South as the men of the South hated them, yet their angel was hot against Tshawlstn, and they sought to crush it as men crush the cockatrice's den. For they said, It is the nest of the rebellion. And thus did all them throughout the land of Diksee which had respect unto the government of Unculpsalm, according to the Great Covenant, arose and longed to see the banner of Unculpsalm, under which their fathers had fought, again in triumph in their land.

17. And the armies of Unculpsalm laid siege to Tshawlstn, and to the great fort which stood before it guarding the passage to the sea. But the Phiretahs had made the place strong by casting up mounds and building other forts, so that it resisted long and stoutly. And three captains had sat down before it in vain.

18. Then Abraham sent against it a captain whose name was Gil Moah. And he was a young man, but he was cunning to fight with great engines of war; and he had taken and destroyed another strong fort which the Phiretahs had wrested from the government of Unculpsalm.

19. And Gil Moah sat down before Tshawlstn, and cast up banks against the forts around it, and took some of them, and set up great engines of war, very mighty and very marvelous, the like of which had not been seen before in any land.

20. And he drove the Tshivulree out of the strong places which were before the great fort; and he set up his engines against that fort, and he battered it to ruins. Moreover he turned his engines against Tshawlstn, and threw iron balls into the city, and fire that ran along the streets and could not be extinguished.

21. Whereat the Phiretahs were in great indignation; for they said that according to the laws of Tshivulree, even their laws, Gil Moah should throw fire which could be extinguished. But he answered them that he came not there to obey their laws, but to compel them to obey the laws of Unculpsalm, and that he did not throw the fire only that it might be put out.

22. And when the news went about that Gil Moah had destroyed the great fort of Tshawlstn, the men of Unculpsalm heard it with solemn joy.

23 And it came to pass that immediately the spirit of the Great Father of that nation, even he who was first in peace and first in war among that people, descended and filled the hearts of all them, saying unto them,

24. Hear me, my children, and give ear unto me ye who are the only fruit of my being. The first triumph of treason is brought low by the power which I nourished; and before the banner which ye first uplifted by my hands the stronghold of iniquity is fallen.

25. Now, when ye do receive the same, and it is delivered into your hands, he shall in no wise rebuild it. Ye shall not suffer one stone to be laid upon another.

26. But it shall remain before your eyes a heap and a desolation from generation to generation, to be a sign and a memorial unto you, and unto your children, and your children's children forever.

27. And it shall come to pass, that when your sons and your daughters shall say unto you, What are these stones, and wherefore are these ruins? that ye shall answer unto them,

28. Thus shall it be unto all them which seek the destruction of the land that doeth justice and loveth mercy, and that dealeth righteously without respect of persons, and giveth freedom unto all them that dwell therein.

WHEN EACH STATE SECEDED.—The following is a list of the States which seceded, and the order in which their ordinances of secession were passed:

South Carolina seceded	Dec. 20, 1860
Mississippi seceded	Jan. 9, 1861
Alabama seceded	Jan. 11, 1861
Florida seceded	Jan. 11, 1861
Georgia seceded	Jan. 19, 1861
Louisiana seceded	Jan. 26, 1861
Texas seceded	Mar. 4, 1861
Virginia seceded	Apr. 24, 1861
North Carolina seceded	May 21, 1861
Tennessee seceded	June 9, 1861

PROGRESSING.—Advices from St. Petersburg announce the gratifying intelligence that the telegraph wires on the great Russo-American line have been extended to the frontiers of China. The route passes by Kasan, Gumene, Obsk, and Irkoutsk, and is 5,438 versts in length.

USE OF BOOKS.—We should read books, not to quote them, but to strengthen our intellects and suggest thoughts of our own. We fatten a sheep with grass, not to obtain a crop of hay from his back, but that he may feed us with mutton and clothe us with his wool.

WE excite the benevolence of children less by pictures of people's necessities than of the joy produced by relieving them.

FORTUNE is painted blind, that she may not blush to behold the fools to whom she gives her.

THE Panama Nunnery building is to be converted into a Penitentiary.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 18, 1865.

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

SANITARY BALL.—We hope our citizens will not forget the effort on the part of our ladies to raise money for this noble and christian association on Wednesday evening next, the 22d instant. It is fit that this should be given on the birth-day of the "Father of his Country," showing, as it does, the disposition on the part of our citizens to do everything in their power to aid the heroes who are battling for the principles bequeathed to mankind by our fathers. The Sanitary Commission has accomplished more for the cause of liberty by relieving the sick and wounded soldiers than any enterprise yet set on foot. Those engaged in this work go along with the different divisions of the army, and our soldiers, no longer fearful of neglect and bad treatment, in case of meeting with any of the casualties of war, go into action with a determination to do all in the power of man for the cause for which they are fighting, regardless of all consequences. This state of things, we are persuaded, has been brought about by the kind attentions of the agents of the Commission—not that a man will rush into danger or expose himself unnecessarily for the purpose of being wounded that he may be nursed, but he knows that if he is wounded, he will receive that care and attention which kind and sympathizing friends are able to bestow upon him. Not only are there tents erected near the battle-field by the Society, but there are Soldiers' Homes in almost every city, town and village in every loyal State, where daily are relieved the discharged soldiers who have been disabled while fighting the battles of their country. Many who have been discharged for disability have been restored to health and vigor by the Commission, and again have enlisted in the ranks of the army. An organization of such noble attributes should not appeal in vain to the sympathies of the loyal people of Dutch Flat, and we feel confident that they will respond to the call with that alacrity and liberality which have heretofore chaaracterized them.

We learn that everything is being done by those having the management of the ball to make it one of the most varied and pleasant that has ever been given in this place. Tickets, three dollars.

MINING OPEARATIONS.—Through the kindness of a friend, we are in possession of the following facts in regard to the operations of the new mill at Brown's Hill, Nevada county: The company put up one of Foucherie's turbine wheels, which was represented by the inventor to have power sufficient to run sixteen stamps, and by the same (some forty-five inches of water) power, draw the car in and out, and that the wheel, which is eight inches in diameter, would work the stamps at the rate of sixty drops per minute. After the wheel had been put up and the water turned on, the wheel was found to have only sufficient power to carry four stamps at the rate of fifty drops per minute, without the car, and when the car is attached to the machinery, the stamps fall at the rate of about twenty per minute. This wheel and machinery has not been able, with all the favoring of those using it, to crush more than four tuns of cement in twelve hours. The company employ thirteen workmen—six during the day and seven at night. The cement of this company is said to be the richest in this district, and they have a sufficient area of ground to last them for years, but with the extreme favorableness of the cement crushed, they have been unable, as yet, to realize more than twelve dollars per day to the hand. This wheel, however, our informant says, is to be replaced by the company with one of a different make, and worked by either Redding's hydrostatic engine or a wheel of Patterson's invention, called the "hurdy-gurdy" wheel. When the company complete their arrangements for thorough operations, we may expect some flattering yields from their claim, until which time we will have to wait for the—wheel.

Mallory & Co., at Red Dog, have been engaged in crushing cement, similar to that of Brown & Co., and are realizing fortunes where, before, they made scarcely anything, showing that this feature of mining is not only practicable, but highly remunerative.

Messrs. Gaylord & Co., at Indiana Hill, three miles from this place, put up a turbine wheel on their claim, similar to that of Brown's, but found that it would not work as represented; and we learn that they are now engaged in putting up one of Redding's hydrostatic engines to drive the mill. We will ascertain all about the workings of this new piece of machinery, and give our readers the benefit of our investigation.

MINING ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday morning last, while Mr. Frank King was at work in the Deep Shaft claim, a rush of dirt and gravel came suddenly through the sluices, in which he was standing, and carried him a considerable distance, rushing him over three falls before he was able to get out, bruising his back and head considerably. He was immediately taken home, where he was properly cared for. The injuries received from the accident are not of a serious nature, and King will shortly be out again. It is considered one of the most miraculous escapes from instant death that has ever occurred in this vicinity.

The mining season thus far, in this neighborhood, has been singularly exempt from any fatal occurrence, for which we should be truly thankful.

GONE TO MEXICO.—W. A. Johnson, for ten or twelve years a resident of this county, and at one time County Clerk, and for years afterwards an attaché of that office, left here two weeks ago, bound for Mexico, where he hopes to obtain employment. Mr. Johnson has many personal friends in this county, and at one time ranked among our leading men. But times have changed; the riches that he once possessed have "taken to themselves wings," and he is now compelled to seek a foreign land to better his fortune. We wish him every pecuniary success in his new home.

WE understand that the Yuba Ditch Company will have their new ditch completed in a week, when they will commence running water.

ISORA.—Yours will appear in our next.

LETTER FROM SACRAMENTO.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 18, 1865.

MR. EDITOR:—Ralph Waldo Emerson is right. The great law of compensation is true. There can be no virtue without vice, no pleasure without pain, no heaven without hell, no God without a devil, no Abolitionists without Democrats. By the same reasoning, the great loss suffered by the readers of the ENQUIRER by the failure of your correspondent to "come to time" last week, is not without its gain somewhere. This principle may be illustrated in every conceivable way. Have we Sambo and Cæsar among us? we have Dennis O'Brien and Patrick O'Flaherty, also. Have we the pouring rain which rejoices the hearts of the miners? we have also the excessive rain which blasts the hopes of the farmers. This reminds me that I hear from every portion of the State, from the mountains and the valleys, the same report, rain! rain! rain! making one almost believe that the world may realize again what that crusty old bachelor, Thompson, says about the ancient flood:

"It rained
Till from the centre to the streaming clouds,
A shoreless ocean tumbled round the globe."

A great deal of scolding, and a reasonable amount of swearing, has been done by decent Union men in consequence of the appointment of Felix O'Byrne Commissary of the Eighth Regiment, by Governor Low. It is indeed a disgraceful appointment. Felix is an ignorant, unprincipled Irish bully. He has, besides, other characteristics which make Mike Brannigan appear respectable in comparison. He is utterly unfit for the society of gentlemen, and yet he is imposed upon the gallant volunteers of the Eighth Regiment as their superior, through whose filthy hands they are compelled to receive their daily bread. But he has one qualification which, in the opinion of some, hides all his defects: he is a "short-hair!" The Governor is at heart a good man. His instincts are right. By nature he prefers the society of gentlemen to the society of blackguards. But he has fallen into the hands of the Philistines. He lacks back-bone, and he dares not act contrary to their wishes. If the Governor wants to close his administration respectably, or advance his chances for the United States Senate, he will have to follow the advice of Conness, and "spew these creatures out of his mouth."

Changing my thoughts from matters which are involved in the "dirty pool of politics," I think it my duty to record and transmit to posterity a little incident which occurred a few weeks ago in this city, which is passing out of the memory of the business community, and which is liable soon to be forgotten forever. A certain married couple reside in this city. The nature of the husband's business was such that he had to be absent from his lodgings every other night. Unexpectedly he returned one morning at 5 o'clock, instead of 3 in the afternoon, as usual. At this point in our history, it is necessary to say that a young gentleman blundered into the room occupied by the married couple, and when the husband returned on the aforesaid morning, he found the young man in bed with his wife. Here comes in the great law of compensations again, for while this "affair" was heaven for the young man, it was hell for the husband. But he was well read in scripture, and hearing the "cocks crow" about that time, he imitated the Apostle Peter, and "cursed and swore." The young man beat a hasty and safe retreat, and immediately entered the army, where he is now valorously fighting to save the Republic. He has too much genius to struggle for the "Union as it was;" he sees clearly the tendency of things, and he wields his weapons vigorously to defend and preserve a disenthralled and regenerated land. Thy waves, O Lethe! shall cover with eternal silence the other parties and scenes connected with this unhappy or happy liaison.

Your old townsman, Stratton, still keeps watch and ward over the 22,000 tomes which compose the State Library. The case which involves his right to remain in office after the 1st of next month will be decided on the 6th of March by the Supreme Court. It is expected by nearly all that Stratton will win, and that the tribunal that has his case in hand will say to him, in the language of scripture, "Old fellow, thy hour is not yet come!"

Adieu. UNKNOWN.

DELINQUENT TAXES.—We see by advertisement in the Stars and Stripes that the District Attorney of Placer county, Col. Tweed, has commenced suit to recover the taxes due for last year, at Auburn. The District Attorney is guaranteed in this course by the law regulating the collection of the delinquent taxes; yet it has heretofore been the custom of the gentleman who occupied that office to send the delinquent list to the Justices of each township in which the delinquents reside, for collection, thereby saving the people a large amount of costs and inconvenience, without taking anything from his fees as allowed by law. But the present Attorney appears to view the matter in a different light: that the delinquents are guilty of culpable negligence in not paying their taxes due for the past year. This, in a few isolated instances, may be true; but in a majority of cases it is not. Persons located in the mining districts have, for the past two years, been extremely hard pressed for money to obtain the necessaries of life, and have been utterly unable, up to a short time back, to raise the amount of their taxes, be that sum ever so insignificant. This being the case, we look at this act of the District Attorney as entirely out of keeping with the course which he might have pursued, and conformed with all the requirements of the law, without subjecting tax-payers to the inconveniences and additional costs of traveling, in some instances, thirty miles to the court in which they are sued, besides incurring the costs of court and advertising. Under the circumstances it shows a disregard for the interests of the people, and a desire to harass them to the extent of the law.

HOMICIDE.—On Saturday last, E. L. Morrell was shot and instantly killed by A. G. Creed, at Rocklin, on the Pacific Railroad. The cause of the deed is stated as follows: Creed, who some time since volunteered, had left his wife on Dr. Page's farm, and between that time and the shooting, Morrell visited the house and finding Mrs. C. unprotected, committed a gross and beastly outrage upon her person. Saturday was the first time that Creed could get leave of absence, when he immediately hunted up and slayed the dastardly violator of his wife. That the action of Creed was right, no man will question, and the form of an investigation should be dispensed with. The wretch deserved a fate far worse than sudden death.

NEW CHURCH.—We understand that there is a movement on foot to raise funds for the erection of a Catholic Church in this place. Quite an amount of money has already been subscribed and paid in for this purpose, and Father James I. Callan is exerting himself to carry out the project.

DUTIES OF WOMAN.

I had the pleasure of reading, in the last number of the ENQUIRER, an article upon the "Advantages of Woman," and the thought suggested itself to my mind that something might be "fitly spoken" upon the Duties of Woman. But I have dwelt in California so long that my friends in "America" have forgotten me, and I do not scribble with a golden pen; and further, as this is my first attempt at writing for the public press, it must not be expected that I shall imitate or rival, in any degree, the genial wit and quaint irony of "M. E. B."

Duties of woman, did I say? Alas! that they should have any duties, married women especially. The sole object and mission of their lives should be to be "pretty" and "happy," no matter how their husbands get along. He can't "appear well" in company; he is "uncultivated;" he is "in the way" when at home. Let him train up and down the world, let him take all his pitiful earnings to provide for his "interesting" family at home but let him keep as far away as possible with his hard, rough hands, and "old clothes." If the wife goes to a party, a singing-school or a prayer-meeting even, it is her duty to go with some other man than her husband. It is more pleasant, you know. Besides it is the custom here in California, and a lady should avoid being odd. Nobody will object to it but a few old fogies, while young men who do not intend to marry, always admire such "spirit." I lay it down as an axiom that it is not the duty of a married woman and mother of children to lose the exalted admiration and sacrifice the good opinions of the young men of the community for no other purpose than to please a proxy husband or a few old maidish persons, whose good opinions are worth nothing, and who never attended a ball in their lives! It is the duty of a married woman to spend most of her time away from home—"it is so lonesome there." The children can take care of themselves, sweep, cook, fight and wash the dishes, and that is all that it is necessary to do about a house. Methinks I have dreamed a dream like this: A married woman happened, accidentally, for once, to be thinking, at the still and solemn hour of midnight, and this question forced its way through the cobwebs of her frivolous mind, "Shall I be pretty always? Be dismissed, Oh, hateful thought! Why should I think of the future? Does not the Bible say 'Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof?'"

What are the duties of sisters to each other? I knew an instance in California once, many miles from Dutch Flat: A married sister came to the State, and found an unmarried sister here. Soon the married sister was taken sick—confined to her bed—with no friends or acquaintances in the State, and very poor. The unmarried sister was sent for. She declined to go; she had so much sewing to do, and had to get ready for the "next ball." It was her duty to attend to her own business first, and count as nothing the helplessness, the poverty, the sufferings and the tears of a sick and perhaps dying sister. Awake! Oh, young men anxious to marry! and do not suffer such a delightful embodiment of feminine graces, tender sensibilities, kind affections, heavenly disposition and lovely hearts to elude your grasp, and

"Waste its sweetness on the desert air."

But, Mr. Editor, I am baking bread to-day, and have no more time to spend on this maiden essay; besides, the water will soon be "turned off," and it is my "duty" not to let my husband know that I have "done this thing." R. H. T.

THE Union Company at Diamond Creek, Nevada county, have run their tunnel 373 feet and struck the ledge 320 feet below the surface ten inches wide at the bottom, and twenty-three inches at the top. Where the ledge is struck in the tunnel it is reported to be extraordinarily rich, and those interested are sanguine as to the result. We hope they may not be disappointed, for persons who have shown such perseverance and industry are worthy the smiles of fortune.

☞ NOTICE the advertisement of Mr. Burckhalter in another column. It will be seen that he offers superior inducements to retail dealers in cigars and tobacco, a new stock of which he purchased while on a visit to the East. He also offers family groceries and provisions at prices which should induce all to give him a call. He sells exclusively for cash and warrants all articles as represented, thus avoiding all dissatisfaction and trouble incidental to long standing accounts. We recommend those in need of anything in his line to give him a call.

SCHOOL PARTY.—The ladies of Forest Hill and vicinity, will give a party at the Forest Shades Hotel, near that place, on the evening of the 22d inst., for the benefit of the school under the supervision of Father J. I. Callan. This school is free for children of any religion or sect, and it is to be hoped that the citizens of that place will generally turn out on the evening mentioned.

GOOD CLEAN UP.—Last week, Jewell & Jones, at Cañon Creek, cleaned up after a run of fifteen days, the comfortable sum of $5,000. This is the largest claim on the Creek, and runs seven hundred inches of water.

The Rough & Ready claim at this place cleaned up a short time back, and realized $100 a day to the hand for the entire run. There are many other claims in this neighborhood that yield equally as much as the above, and we will endeavor hereafter to give the figures.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WALTER S. DENIO.—Walter S. Denio, Melter and Refiner of the United States Branch Mint, died at the Russ House, in San Francisco, on the morning of the 11th inst., after an illness of only three days. His sudden demise will be received with sincere grief by the large circle of friends who esteemed his many social and amiable qualities. As one of the most responsible Government officers, he bore a reputation for unflinching integrity which was fully deserved; and had but lately concluded a most creditable annual settlement of his official duties. Owing to a disagreement between the Superintendent and Sub-Treasurer as to the appointment of a temporary successor to Denio, business is suspended at the Mint.

SOME days since, Caroline Jordan, a lady somewhat "of color," residing in Spofford Alley, San Francisco, went to bed sick, and held chloroform, on a handkerchief, to her face to check the neuralgic pain. She soon fell asleep, with her mouth open, alligator fashion, and awoke refreshed, but discovered to her horror that some wretch had stolen from her mouth a set of false teeth, on gold plate, for which she had recently paid $200. The teeth were subsequently found at a pawnbroker's on Dupont street.

TRIAL TRIP.—The iron-clad Camanche made her trial trip, says the Flag, from Mare Island Navy Yard on Friday, the 10th instant. The following is the report of the Chief Engineer, Edmund Foster:

At 4:45., A. M. started fires; at 5:45 boilers generating steam—using bituminous coal; at 6:45 A. M., cast off from the wharf at Mare Island Navy Yard, started ahead and proceeded down Napa Straits, against a strong wind and tide; at 9:16, passed the Magazine at the lower end of Mare Island, engines and boilers performing admirably; at 9:30, working the vacuum pumps; at 10:37, fired a blank cartridge from gun No. 2—this being the first gun fired; at 10:40, a 30 pound shell fired from the rifled gun on board the Shubrick, who is convoying us; at 10:45, abreast of Point Pinole—vessel rounding-to to test her steering qualities; at 11, fired a blank cartridge from gun No, 1—charge, 20 pounds; at 11:05, heading for Mare Island; at 11:28, fired the first shell from gun No. 2— charge, 20 pounds; at 11:40, passed and saluted the steamer Princess; at 11:47, passed and saluted the steamer Amelia; at 11:53, passed and saluted the United States gun-boat Monterey, with Capt. McDougal on board—after passing, she rounded-to and accompanied us on our trip; at 12:05, passed the lower point of Mare Island, heading for Benicia, engines and boilers performing well; at 12:42, fired a blank shell from gun No. 2, charge, 35 pounds; at 12:57, P. M., abreast of Benicia Arsenal, rounding-to at 1 P. M., heading for Mare Island; at 1:08, the Monterey came alongside and put Capt. McDougal and ladies on board of us; at the same time the Martinez ferry-boat, passed us, her passengers giving us three cheers, which were returned by the party on the Camanche; at 1:45, fired a loaded shell from gun No. 1—charge, 35 pounds; at 2:05 fired a loaded shell from gun No. 1—charge, 35 pounds; at 2:08 the Monterey cast off from us, and proceeded to the Navy Yard, with part of the guests on board; at 2:11 the Shubrick came up abreast of us, with her rigging manned, and gave us three cheers, which were answered by the remaining party on board the Camanche; at 2:15, slowed and stopped; received the Naval Agent, Mr. Chenery, Captain Chaddock, of the revenue-cutter Jo Lane, and Capt. Scammon of the Shubrick, on board; at 2:25 started ahead; at 2:37 fired a blank shell from gun No. 2—charge, 20 pounds; at 3:03 fired a loaded shell from gun No. 2—charge, 35 pounds; at 3:23, passed the lower end of Mare Island; at 3:30, put the turret in motion, everything throughout the vessel connected with the machinery working admirably; at 4:16 stopped and made fast alongside the wharf at the Navy Yard.

REV. JOHN LAWTON departed this life on the 11th inst., at 5 o'clock A. M., in San Francisco. During a protracted illness he manifested the most edifying sentiments of resignation. He endeavored to discharge the duties of his charge up to a few weeks ago. Since then he devoted his time preparing for his last hours. He was born in the city of New York, and was ordained Priest in the Diocese of Buffalo in 1862. where he was soon after appointed Pastor of Portageville. His life reflected credit on religion and society. All who were acquainted with him spoke highly of his estimable character as a clergyman and a citizen, and mourn in regret over his early death. His body, clothed in the sacerdotal robes, was laid out in state at St. Mary's Hospital. On Monday, at 9 o'clock, the solemn requiem services and High Mass were celebrated at the Cathedral, after which the funeral proceeded to Cavalry Cemetery.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED IN ONE MINUTE!

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.

F. TILLMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street, Bet. Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADVERTISEment in your daily papers respecting the "security" of the "Lillie" lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By one Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron bolt on the inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc. Respectfully, etc.,

A. E. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL

Lock Picker or Thimble-rigger

Required to OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at 318 Battery street, San Francisco.

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase one of his

So-called "Fire Proof Safes,"

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything was Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenrie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make), and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc.—their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring, however, no better than our own.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
[Signed:] GEO. L. CHESBRO & CO.

TILTON & McFARLAND'S SAFE!

THE ONLY PROTECTION

Against Fire and Burglars.

For the last Fifteen Years

This safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that out of one of our safes by means of burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.

No man ever lost a dollar

A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at

No. 316 Battery street, San Francisco.

A NEW AND CHEAP INVENTION.

Among the many developments of the prevailing oil excitement not the least remarkable is the successful adaptation of petroleum to economical household and general use for purposes of light and fuel.

Innumerable experiments toward this object have been tried, but until lately they had all proved wanting in some essential points of detail and had, in consequence, comparatively failed. The patience, energy and perseverance of a gentleman who has devoted a large amount of time and capital to the solution of the problem have, however been crowned with eventual triumph; and there can be no doubt a new channel has been opened through which the benefits to public business and private comfort derivable from our newest and probably most important staple may be universally diffused.

Salisbury, who claims the credit of the invention, has, by skillfully combining with his own discoveries the available ideas of others, produced a simple and efficient apparatus, with which the use of coal—now become so costly a necessity—is virtually superseded.

The process of manufacturing gas on this principle can be applied with equal facility to the family wants of a small private residence, to the requirements of a hotel, steamboat, railroad car, or place of entertainment, or to the demands of a large city.

The model apparatus which Salisbury has perfected and put in operation is intended to supply the average consumption in an ordinary dwelling. In its working it is so free from intricacy or danger that its management may be confided to any one of common intelligence, without the slightest fear of accident. It makes the quantity of gas desired just as fast as the gas is consumed, and no faster, and this without the aid of a meter, no matter what number of burners may be from time to time ignited or extinguished. In this respect, by a most ingenious contrivance, it regulates itself completely. In Winter the gas is generated by heat, which can be obtained from an ordinary stove of almost any kind, and without interfering with the regular use of the stove for other purposes. In Summer no heat need be used. The gas is then manufactured by means of an air blast, that forces common air into a reservoir, constructed with compartments, in which the air travels on a surface of petroleum, about one-eigth of an inch in depth, and during its course absorbs and holds in suspension a current of naphtha.

The gas can be distributed over a house through the pipes and burners now in service; it can be as readily lighted, shut off and controlled as the ordinary coal gas, and the apparatus is so arranged as to preclude the possibility of explosion. The flame of this gas is larger from a three feet burner than that of coal gas from a five feet burner; it is far whiter and more brilliant, and is less than one half of the cost.

These are some of the advantages claimed for this novel invention by its projectors, and they enforce their statements with a formidable array of statistics. They say, for instance, that the various means of illumination now in use cost at the following comparative rates per hour:

	Cents.	Mills.
Tallow candles	3	2
Stearine candles	4	3
Composition candles	4	6
Adamantine candles	5	2
Spermaceti candles	6	7
German wax candles (stearic acid)	8	5
Wax candles	10	4
Refined whale oil	4	2
Sperm oil	6	1
Lard oil	3	2
Elephant oil	4	9
Kerosene oil	2	5
Petroleum oil	1	1
Camphene spirits	5	4
Coal gas (five feet burner)	1	8
Petroleum gas (five feet burner)	0	7

They also show how enormously the use of this gas would increase the consumption of rock oil abroad, rendering it a more important article of exportant, and, therefore, of national wealth than it is even now.

The apparatus used in the manufacture of gas sufficient to supply a house or steamboat occupies a very small amount of space; but the principle, as previously mentioned can be expanded to an indefinite extent, so that by Salisbury's process all New York could be lighted; yet then the work would not take up one-fiftieth of the ground on which the coal gas works, which supply the city now, are built. In his specifications Salisbuay describes his invention as "The Combination Petroleum Gas Works, for evaporizing and purifying hydro-carbon gas from petroleum oils and their residuums." The works consist of

1. A machine called a hydrostatic regulator, which regulates and equalizes the supplies of material to be used in generating the gases, either in a liquid or vaporized state.

2. A reservoir of peculiar construction, which receives the liquids from the hydrostatic regulator, to be there prepared in a vaporized form for being carried to the retort, where it is made into a fixed gas; or, in Summer, the gas can be distributed directly from the reservoir.

3. A retort, which can be set into a cylinder or cooking-stove, or into a range or furnace. This receives the vaporized gas from No. 2, or the liquids direct from No. 1. The retort is charged iron "pipes," in which the water and vaporized gas and pure hydro-carbonic gas produced.

4. A combined Washer, and Cooler Purifier, which receives gas from the retort, first into water, which cools and washes it, thence passing it through a series of iron sieves, filled with lime, where it is perfectly purified.

5. A Hydraulic Regulator, which answers the purpose of a gasometer; receives the gas from No. 4 upon the top of the water surface, and as the supply of gas becomes greater than the consumption, the pressure of the water causes the water to rise into an upper chamber until the inequality is remedied.

For heating and cooking purposes the gas is conveyed to the stoves of any desired size, from the litttle six-inch bachelor's kettle stove to the hotel kitchen range; and there, by the simplest mechanical device imaginable, the flame is intensified and expanded to whatever extent may be needed.

Salisbury has his apparatus up for the inspection of those who take an interest in matters connected with scientific progress and improvement, in the basement of No. 100 Broadway. His agents in New York, Christie & Stow, have their office at the same place.—New York News, January 13th.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crises of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants. NOTICE.—TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONcern.—That whereas the north half of the southwest quarter and the north half of the southeast quarter of Section No. 8, Township 12 N, Range 7 E, Mount Diablo base and Meridian, have heretofore by the affidavits of various parties filed in the United States Land Office at Marysville been declared to be mineral lands, and by reason whereof have heretofore been witheld from pre-emption and sale. Now the undersigned hereby gives notice that he will on Thursday, the 9th day of March, 1865, make application to the Register of said U. S. Land Office for permission to file his declaratory statement claiming pre-emption to said land, and to make proof that the said land is more valuable for agricultural than mining purposes, unless sufficient cause to the contrary is then and there shown. SYMPATHY.

Fellow-worker, toiling brother,
Come unto the fields with me;
See! the sheaves support each other,
So with us it ought to be.

Lean upon me in your trouble,
And support me in your joy;
Friendship can a lifetime double,
Hatred will two lives destroy.

Go! remember, the Eternal
Lays us in one barn together,
When with His right hand supernal
Sheaves of life He stoops to gather.

THE SUBTERRANEAN BARBER.—It is well known that Sir Richard Arkwright—to whose ingenuity and perseverance, more than to any other cause, we are indebted for the marvelous growth of our cotton manufactures—began life as a poor barber. It is now more than a hundred years since he occupied a kind of underground kitchen in the town of Bolton, in Lancashire, to which he endeavored to attract customers by exhibiting a board with the facetious inscription "Come to the Subterranean Barber; he shaves for a penny." Whether the barbers of the town really dreaded this announcement, or merely felt the customary jealousy toward an interloper—for Arkwright was a native, not of Bolton, but of Preston—does not appear; but a fierce opposition is said to have been at once commenced between them. The Bolton barbers reduced their prices; but the man whose inventive genius was destined to create a revolution in British industry was not likely to be beaten when fairly roused. Arkwright took down his board, and painted out the offensive inscription; but it was only to substitute the still more alarming words—"Richard Arkwright, Subterranean Barber; A Clean Shave for a Half-penny!" We may assume that the barber after this left their underground rival to shave the town in peace. Where Arkwright's cellar was, is not exactly known—indeed, the facts relative to his early life are somewhat obscure; but Mr. French, in his Biography of Crompton, informs us that a gentleman in Bolton still preserves, as a relic of Arkwright, the leaden vessel in which his customers were accustomed to wash after being shaved. Like most handicraftsmen, whose business leaves them much spare time, barbers are frequently ingenious men—a truth which appears to be as old as the Arabian Nights' Tales, most readers of which will remember the barber who left his half-shaven customers to take astronomical observations in an adjoining garden. Arkwright appears to have corresponded in many ways with that ancient prototype of Oriental humor. His mind was always filled with schemes of ingenious mechanism for shortening labor, and appears, like many other uneducated men, to have long dreamed of discovering that philosopher's stone of mechanics—perpetual motion. Like the wife of the potter Bernard Palissy, Mrs. Arkwright was not unnaturally impatient of his neglect of the customers, who now began, we may suppose, to be more numerous in the barber's kitchen. Convinced that he would starve his family by scheming when he ought to be shaving, Mrs. Arkwright one day, in a fit of anger, destroyed some of his cherished models of machinery; and in a moment the unfortunate barber saw the fruit of his labor and ingenuity, and all the prospecive wealth that they were to bring him, gone, as he thought, forever. Arkwright never forgave this act. He separated from her immediately, nor would any thing induce him ever to live with her again.

AN IRON LETTER.—By the last American mail we received a letter which is remarkable both as a documentary curiosity and as a specimen of manufacturing skill. It is written on iron rolled so thin that the sheet is only twice the weight of a similar sized sheet of ordinary note paper. One letter is eight inches long by five and a quarter broad, and its weight is only two pennyweights and twenty one grains. The weight itself explains why we received it. It is dated "South Pittsburg (Pennsylvania), November 6, 1864," and it runs:

EDITOR OF THE REPUBLICAN JOURNAL:—In the number of your paper, dated October 1, 1864, there is an article setting fourth that John Brown &Co., of the Atlas Works, Sheffield, had succeeded in rolling a plate of iron thirteen and a half inches thick. I send you this specimen of iron made at Sligo Iron Works, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, as the thinnest iron rolled in the world up to this time, which iron I challenge all England to surpass for strength and tenuity. This, I believe, will be the first iron letter that ever crossed the Atlantic Ocean; and if you should think it worthy of notice in your widely-circulated paper, please send me a copy of the same.

Yours, etc., JOHN C. EVENS.

We are assured by competent authority, that the iron upon which this letter is written is of exceedingly fine quality, and that the sheet is by far the thinnest ever seen in this country. Some remarkable specimens of finely rolled iron were shown in the Belgian Court in the Exhibition of 1862, but the thinnest of them was much thicker than this. The production of such a sheet indeed is highly creditable to the manufacturing skill of Pittsburg, the Birmingham of America.—Birmingham Post.

ATTEMPTED ESCAPE OF CONVICTS AT PORTLAND OREGON.—On Saturday morning last a gang of convicts, under the control of Deputy Warden J. P. Ward and Keepers Kingin, Warner and Barry, left the Penitentiary in this city to work on the streets. They were employed in cutting down the bank in Sixth, between Jefferson and Columbia streets, filling in the latter, a distance of about three hundred feet from the cut. At the "dumping" place, a few minutes after the day's work was begun, four of the convicts "took French leave" and ran down Fifth street. They were, Lewis Matteo, convicted for assault with intent to kill, sentenced in June last to serve for four years, from Wasco county; an Indian called Dick, who escaped about three or four years ago, and was sent back from Marion county for horse stealing in November, 1862; Wentland Nuss, convicted in Wasco county for horse stealing, and William Hograbi, also an old "hand," who escaped some years ago and was returned from Marion county in August last. In a moment after they had dropped their wheel-barrows they were pursued by Barry and Warner, when a shot from the last named officer felled Dick to the ground and he was captured with a wounded leg. Matteo, leading the other two, ran to Main street, a distance of less than one thousand feet, where he was met by Barry, and shot, receiving a serious wound. The two remaining then made a dash at Barry, but he brought his revolver to bear upon them, which compelled a surrender and changed their base somewhat, as they carried their wounded companion to prison on a litter. Dick hobbled back to his cell, and yesterday the wounded men were getting along quite comfortably.

WHAT A TOAD DID FOR A SOLDIER.—A correspondent of the American Agriculturalist relates the following incident, which he witnessed: A number of wounded from the battle of Petersburg were lying in a hospital tent, among whom was one whose leg had been taken off. He was on a mattress on the ground, and the weather being hot, the dressed stump of his leg was exposed, and a swarm of flies were settling upon it. Presently a large toad hopped into the tent, and taking his station near the edge of the bed began "gobbling" up the blue bottles in "double quick." The moment one alighted within six inches of the spot, he would square himself for the attack, his eyes twinkling with excitement, and then with a flash of his tongue and a smack of his mouth the unlucky insect would disappear.

THIS year there will be four eclipses—two of the sun and two of the moon. The eclipses of the sun occur on the 20th of April and the 15th of October; those of the moon on the 11th of April and the 3d of October.

CONSTABLE'S SALE.—BY VIRTUE OF an Execution to me directed and delivered, on the 14th day of January, 1865, out of the Court of O. H. Young a Justice of the Peace in and for Township No. 7. Placer county and State of California, on a judgment rendered in said Court, on the 3th day of January, A. D. 1865. in favor of James F. Brown and against W. S. Conner, for the sum of Two Hundred and Twelve 60-100 Dollars (212 60) in gold or silver coin or the equivalent, with interest thereon at the rate of two per cent. per month from the 3d day of January, A. D. 1865, together with costs of suit, taxed at Forty-three 75-100 Dollars (43 75), I have on the 14th day of January, A. D. 1865, levied upon and will expose for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in gold and silver coin or the equivalent, at the Engine House of the Rough and Ready Mining Company on Grizzly Flat, Township No. 7, Placer county and State of California,

On Monday, the 27th day of February, 1865,

At 10 o'clock, A. M., all the right, title, claim and interest which the said W. S. Conner had on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1864, or has since thereunto acquired, in and to the following named and described property, to wit: One undivided twelfth interest or share of what is known as the Rough and Ready Company's Mining Claims, situated on Grizzly Flat, Township No. 7, Placer county and State of California, together with one undivided twelfth interest or share in an Engine and fixtures belonging to the same. The said Engine is now located on the said Rough and Ready Mining Company's claims. Also, one twelfth of an interest or share in all the Company's Wood, Timbers. Tools, Cars, Sluices, fixtures and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining. All of which named and described property I will sell as aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the above judgment, together with the costs due, and to become due thereon has enjoyed on this coast an uninterupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength and vigor from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold ever over the one afflicted, the sword of destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venerial, doubles in dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured: the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all diseasses entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT

Cures are Always Guaranteed,

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all disorders of the Bladder, Kidneys and prostrate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient Consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, OR NO PAY REQUIRED at the PRIVATE

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORROEA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lacivious dreams accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases, Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence toward a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principal of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim of his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult, then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance from business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy and the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation, by letter or otherwise, Free. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies or the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without those Renovating Agents. None genuine unless procured at this office. Sent by Mail or Express, to any part of the State.

PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO.,
No. 13 Platt str., New York, Cleveland, Ohio, and Birmingham, Vt.
S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust; that a simple machine is better than a complicated one; that a wringer should be self adjusting and efficient; that thumb-screws and fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order; that wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split; that wood bearings for a shaft to run in will wear out; that the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes; that cog-wheel regulators are not essential, that the Putnam Wringer has ALL the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named; that all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made; that it will wring a Thread or a Bed Quilt without alteration.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but only insert a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, TEST Putnam's Wringer. Test it thoroughly with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co.—Gentlemen:—I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use.

Respectfully yours, JNO. W. WHEELER,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars. JNO. C. LEFFERTS,
New York, Jan. 1864. No. 100 Beekman str.

We have tested Putnam's Wringer by practical working and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and its saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

INVENTORS, MECHANICS, AGRICULTURISTS,

Are directed to the annual prospectus of the cheapest and best Mechanical Journal in the world,

The Illustrated Scientific American,

A New Volume of which commences Jan. 1, 1865.

THIS VALUABLE JOURNAL HAS BEEN published nineteen years, and during all this time it has been the firm and steady advocate of the Inventor, Mechanic, Manufacturer, and Farmer, and the faithful chronicler of the progress of Art, Science and Industry.

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is the largest, the only reliable, and most widely circulated journal of the kind now published in the United States. It has witnessed the growth of nearly all the great inventions and discoveries of the day, most of which have been illustrated and described in its columns. It also contains a Weekly Official List of all the Patent Claims, a feature of great value to all Inventors and Patentees.

In the Mechanical Department, a full account of all improvements in Machinery will be given. Also practical articles upon the various Tools used in workshops and manufactories.

Steam and Mechanical Engineering will continue to receive careful attention, and all experiments and practical results attained will be fully recorded.

Woollen, Cotton and other Manufacturing Interests will have special attention. Also, Firearms, War Implements, Ordnance, War Vessels, Railway Machinery, Mechanics' Tools, Electric, Chemical and Mathematical Apparatus, Wood and Lumber Machines, Hydraulics, Pumps, Water-wheels, etc.; Household and FARM IMPLEMENTS—this latter department being very full and of great value to Farmers and Gardeners; Articles embracing every department of Popular Science, which everybody can understand.

Patent Law Decisions and Discussions will, as heretofore, form a prominent feature. Owing to the very large experience of the publishers, Messrs. MUNN & Co., as Solicitors of Patents, this department of the paper will possess great interest to Patentees and inventors.

The year's numbers contain several hundred superb engravings; also reliable practical recipes, useful in every shop and household. Two volumes each year, 416 pages—total, 832 pages.
